SYNTHETIC DEMO / FICTIONAL EXAMPLE

PRE-LAUNCH QA & HANDOFF PACK

A fictional example of a restrained, agency-branded review structure for a bounded public-page check.

CASE SUMMARY

AGENCY	Northstar Studio - fictional
CLIENT	Harbor & Pine - fictional
REVIEW WINDOW	2026-10-29 - synthetic
SCOPE	Five public pages - desktop and mobile browser views
REVIEWER	Agency reviewer approval required before client handoff

Executive handoff

Three synthetic items were recorded for format demonstration: one blocker candidate, one major issue and one minor issue. The agency must confirm severity, ownership and wording before any client handoff.

01 / REVIEW WINDOW

2026-10-29. Synthetic public-page views only. No authenticated, payment, security, legal or exhaustive testing.

02 / REVIEW SCOPE

Five illustrative public pages across desktop and mobile browser views. The agreed coverage matrix controls the real work.

03 / HANDOFF

Agency approves findings, assigns ownership and decides any implementation. One bounded retest follows agreed fixes.

Finding register

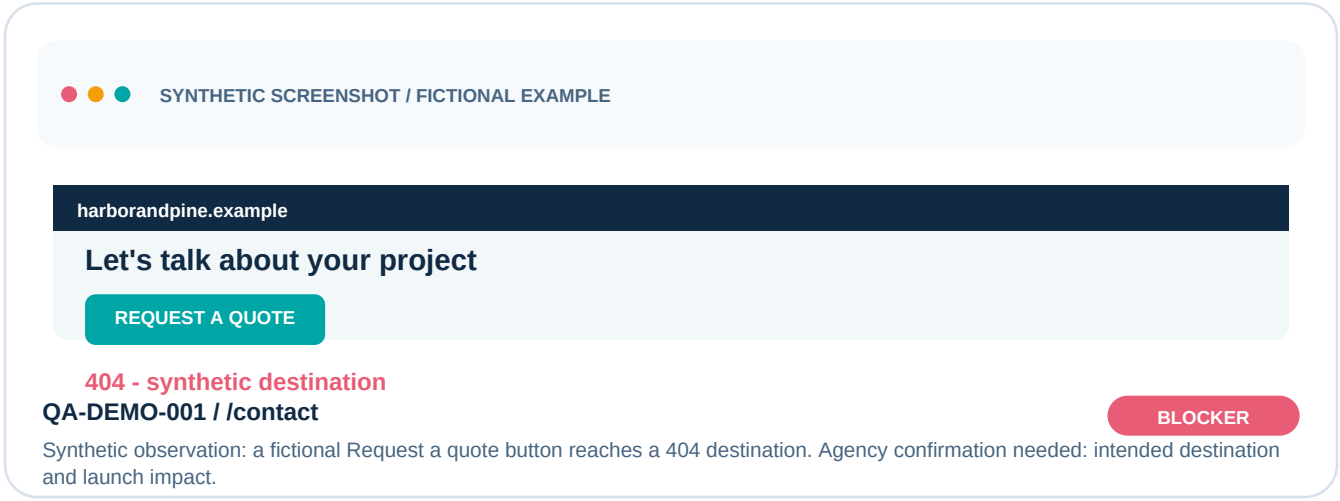
●	QA-DEMO-001	BLOCKER CANDIDATE	/contact	Quote CTA points to fictional 404
●	QA-DEMO-002	MAJOR	/services	Synthetic mobile comparison edge obscured
●	QA-DEMO-003	MINOR	/about	Fictional draft text remains visible

Agency decision gate

Before launch, confirm intended destinations, supported layouts and approved content. This pack demonstrates reporting structure only; it does not conclude that any fictional issue exists on a real site.

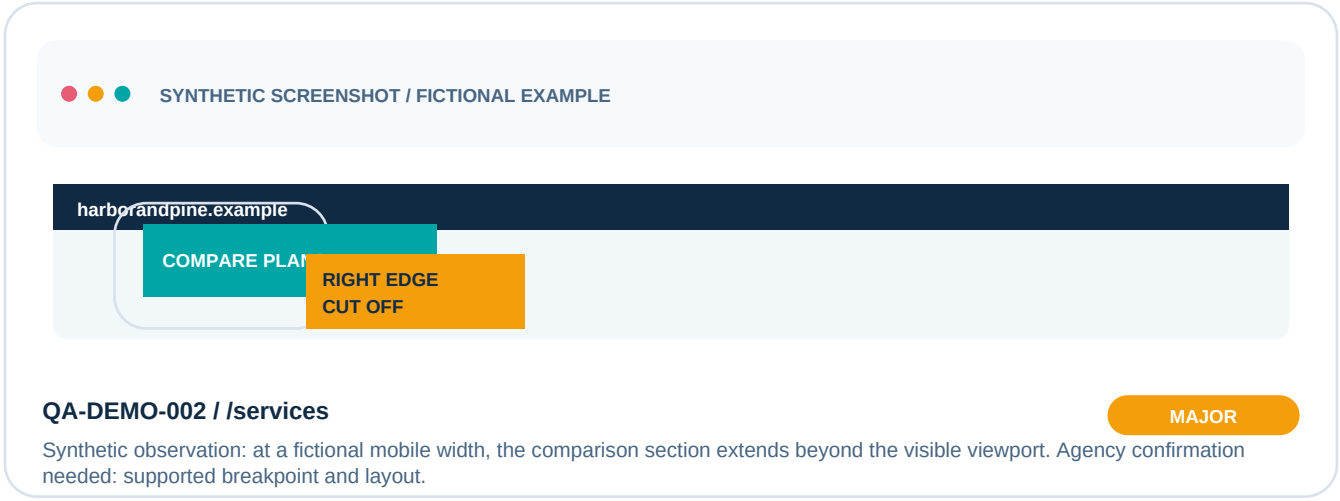
Illustrative screenshots

All panels below are synthetic interface illustrations. The URLs, content, timestamps and defects are fictional examples for layout review only.



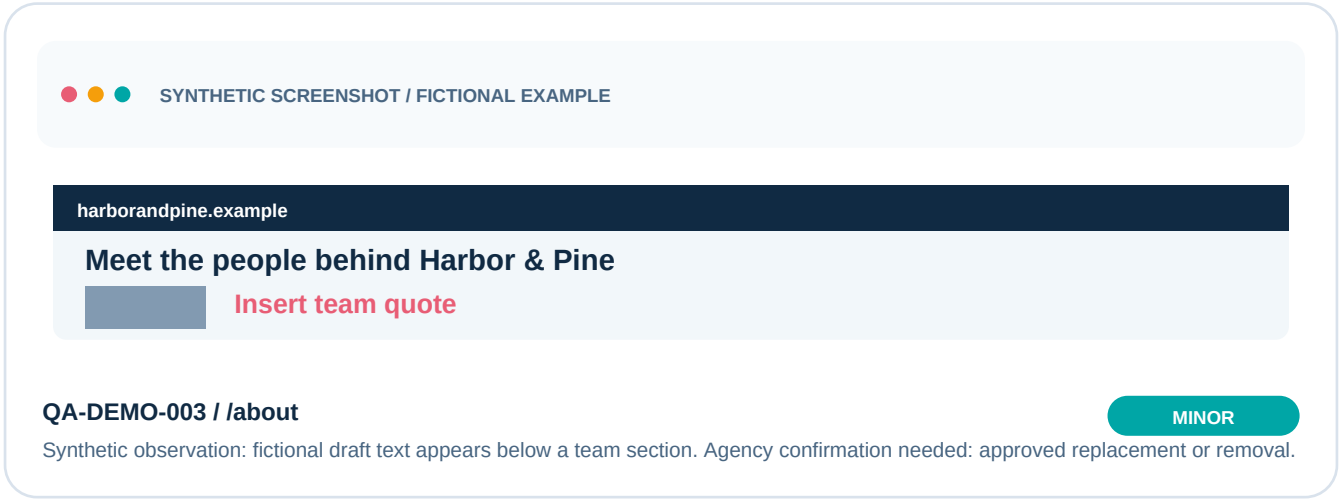
QA-DEMO-001 / /contact — BLOCKER

Synthetic observation: a fictional Request a quote button reaches a 404 destination. Agency confirmation needed: intended destination and launch impact.



QA-DEMO-002 / /services — MAJOR

Synthetic observation: at a fictional mobile width, the comparison section extends beyond the visible viewport. Agency confirmation needed: supported breakpoint and layout.



QA-DEMO-003 / /about — MINOR

Synthetic observation: fictional draft text appears below a team section. Agency confirmation needed: approved replacement or removal.

Before client handoff

The agency owns the final decision, implementation and client communication. Use this page as a compact approval gate before any real handoff.

Approval checklist

- [ ] Confirm the reviewed pages, browser views and issue classes are the agreed scope.
- [ ] Confirm severity, owner, wording and expected client impact for every item.
- [ ] Confirm the intended destination, layout and content decisions for agreed fixes.
- [ ] Approve the exact client-facing summary and any agency branding before sharing.
- [ ] Schedule one bounded retest and record the final disposition for every item.

EXCLUSIONS - SYNTHETIC DEMO

No security, penetration, legal, accessibility-conformance, SEO or exhaustive conclusion. No authenticated flows, production credentials, payment testing, production changes or live customer data. No guarantee of a bug-free or launch-ready site.

Retest and closeout

A real engagement would retain the source evidence, record agency-approved fixes, perform one agreed retest and issue a status summary with limitations. Payment, scope, privacy and client communication remain subject to the agency's approval and agreed terms.
